DETAILED ACTION

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 16-35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Koss (U.S. 3,767,499).

Koss teaches a method of forming a perforated face sheet of resin impregnated fiber layers by arranging different layers of parallel fibers at different angles in order to form through holes (abstract, claim 1). The instant invention claims a perforated resin fiber face sheet with at least 25% of the area of the face sheet being perforated. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to have adjusted the fiber density and orientation of the various fiber layers of Koss to achieve any desired hole spacing. Having a large perforated area would better allow sound absorption and would therefore have been obvious to one of ordinary skill of the art.

3. Applicant's arguments filed 02 January 2009 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that the claims require physical perforation and cites page 1, lines 20-30 of the instant specification. The examiner disagrees. The passage cited by applicant says that perforation only means "piercing right through" and is not limited to any method of formation. Alignment of fibers in order to leave open through holes as in Koss would meet this definition. In fact page 8, lines 24-31 of the instant specification explicitly states that most fibers are aligned so as to form a through hole in order to avoid breakage during any mechanical perforation.

4. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

5. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to William P. Watkins III whose telephone number is 571-272-1503.
